

The kindergarten class did an experiment to observe a chemical reaction involving eggs. Each student received an egg and they immersed the egg in vinegar. Over the next 48 hours, students observed and discussed the events taking place as the egg shells were dissolving. At the end of the experiment, we ended up with what we called "A Naked Egg". Students had a lot of fun and enjoyed being little scientists.

